Re: Free Repair of your "GE"-brand or "Professional Series"-brand, 30-Pint or 40-Pint Portable Dehumidifier

We understand that you may have purchased one or more 30-pint or 40-pint, GE-brand or "Professional Series"-brand portable dehumidifiers manufactured by GD Midea Air Conditioning Equipment, Ltd. between November 2006 and August 2007 or during April 2008.

As the distributor of these dehumidifiers, we write to bring an important issue to your attention.

In certain of these dehumidifiers, there can be a risk of fire related to a short circuit within a component of the dehumidifier's compressor assembly. There have been no reported fire incidents in Canada. However, due to our dedication to product quality and safety, and in cooperation with the Electrical Safety Authority, we have decided as a precautionary measure to implement a voluntary corrective program with respect to these dehumidifiers that involves a free repair at a local authorized service center. If you determine that your dehumidifier is included in this repair program, YOU SHOULD UNPLUG AND STOP USING THE DEHUMIDIFIER IMMEDIATELY, and contact Midea at 1-877-593-8721 or www.recallverification.com.

To identify whether your dehumidifier is included in this "recall" look for one of the following combinations of brand name, model number, and serial number:

Brand	Model Number Begins With:	Serial Number Begins With
GE	AHK30LK, AHW30LK,	VL1, ZL1, AM1, DM1, FM1, GM1,
	AHM30LK, AHK40LK,	HM1, LM1, MM1, RM1
	AHH40LK, and AHM40LK
"Professional	PS78303	from C101023360108414100001 to
Series"		C101023360108415103037
